

Audrina / Douglas Audition

Douglas arrives to check into the hotel.

AUDRINA (busy at the counter, sees DOUGLAS and turns to greet him) Hello, welcome to Lovers' Landing Beach Hotel, home of sandy toes and salty kisses. I'm Audrina Brown, how may I help you?

DOUGLAS. Hi, I'm Doug DuPont. I have a reservation.

AUDRINA. (Moving behind the counter checking the computer.) Great, let's get you checked in so you can enjoy our beautiful beach. Ah, here you are in room twenty-two.

DOUGLAS. Oh, I guess that's alright, but I was here six months ago and just loved room number seven and I wondered if it was available?

AUDRINA. Let me check. Well, you're in luck. It's been assigned to a Mr. Mudd, but as he hasn't arrived yet, I'll just put him in room twenty-two and you can have room number seven. Just fill in this card please. ( She hands him a card and a pen.)

DOUGLAS. That's terrific, thank you. I don't remember seeing you the last time I was here. I remember meeting a Mr. Archie Brown. I believe he's the owner. Are you related?

AUDRINA. Yes, he was my father, but he passed away a few weeks ago. I'm the new owner now.

DOUGLAS. I'm very sorry for your loss. He seemed like a very nice gentleman. Please accept my condolences.

AUDRINA. Thank you. So, you were here before. If you don't mind my asking, what brings you back?

DOUGLAS. Beautiful beaches, fun times. Does there have to be a reason?

AUDRINA. No, of course not. It's just that most of our guests these days are here for destination weddings. I was just wondering if - - -

DOUGLAS. (Laughing) I can assure you that I am not here for a wedding and definitely not mine.

AUDRINA. Ah, but it's the home of sandy toes and salty kisses. So beware the mystique of Lovers' Landing Beach Hotel.

DOUGLAS. Do you really believe in that? (Hands her the card.)

AUDRINA. All I can tell you is this place seems to have a magical effect on people.

DOUGLAS. Thanks, I'll remember that. Oh, do you still have that bingo game going on?

AUDRINA. Every Tuesday night. Now, please, feel free to help yourself to our complimentary drinks. I hope you'll enjoy your stay with us. Room seven is such a lovely room, and with direct access to the beach I can see why you liked it. If there's anything else you need please let me know. (She hands him the key.)

DOUGLAS. Thanks. I hope I'll see you later. (He takes his bag, crosses left and exits into room 7.)
